The Brenner Group, Inc. Names Christie Valdez New Vice President of Business Development

Non-Profit Veteran to Head Business Development Efforts

Cupertino, Calif. – March 6, 2007 – The Brenner Group, Inc., an interim executive management and financial advisory services firm, has named Christie Valdez Vice President of Business Development.

Reporting to The Brenner Group CEO Richard Brenner, Valdez will have primary responsibility for expanding the firm’s client base in both the interim executive and financial advisory services areas.

Valdez arrives with more than ten years of extensive non-profit management experience, primarily in membership and director capacities.

Prior to accepting her new role with The Brenner Group, Valdez was Executive Director of The Churchill Club, a post in which she served for the past five years. She also served as the Club’s Director of Membership. Before that, Valdez was Director of Human Resources/Business Management at TimeOut Services, and prior to that, was Director of Membership at the YMCA of Santa Clara Valley, Central Branch.

According to Brenner, “We’re delighted to have an individual of Christie’s caliber and experience join The Brenner Group team. Having Christie on board will ensure that we continue to fully develop and leverage our relationships with referral sources in order to drive new business.”
