The Brenner Group Establishes Dedicated Litigation Support Practice

Extends its Market Leading Valuation Practice

Cupertino, CA – February 3, 2009 – The Brenner Group®, Silicon Valley’s leading provider of interim financial management, business valuations, and financial advisory services, announced today the formation of a dedicated service group for providing litigation support to its clients.

For more than 15 years, The Brenner Group has supplied business valuations for hundreds of companies across all businesses and sectors. The current economic climate and increase in business-related litigation, however, led The Brenner Group to formalize its valuation consulting and expert testimony services.

“We anticipate a more litigious environment, as with every downturn there are more contentious outcomes,” says Rich Brenner, CEO, The Brenner Group. “In our 20-year history, we have advised hundreds of clients through a wide range of economic cycles, and felt to better serve our clients it was important to dedicate resources to the litigation support area of our existing valuations business.” John Heath, EVP and head of Financial Advisory Services for The Brenner Group, will be heading up the firm’s expanded efforts in this sector.

“The Brenner Group has been a valued service provider and important partner to the venture capital community for many years,” said Mark White, Partner, White & Lee. “The valuations team is highly regarded in Silicon Valley, and, given their credibility and understanding of what makes a good expert witness, I welcome them as an additional resource for our clients to call on in difficult times.”
